Ce n'est pas à un vieux singe qu'on apprend à faire des grimaces.
(Proverbe)

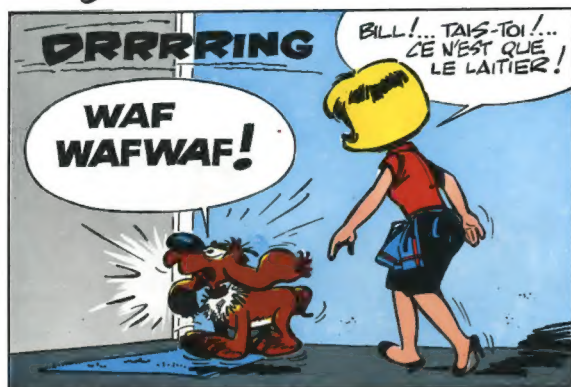

Elle doit être à moi, dit-elle, et la raison,
C'est que je m'appelle lion...
(La Fontaine)

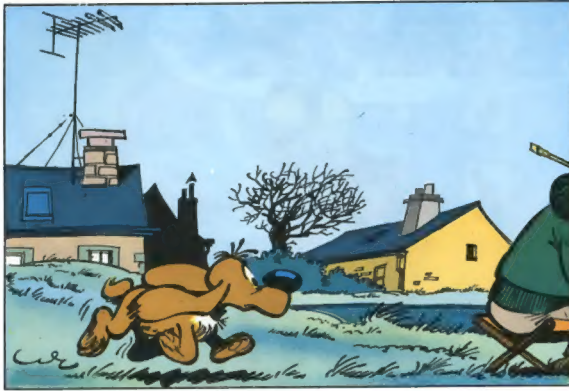

O Nuit, selon sa vie, à tout homme qui veille,
Inspire ton horreur ou ta sérénité...
(Sully-Prudhomme)

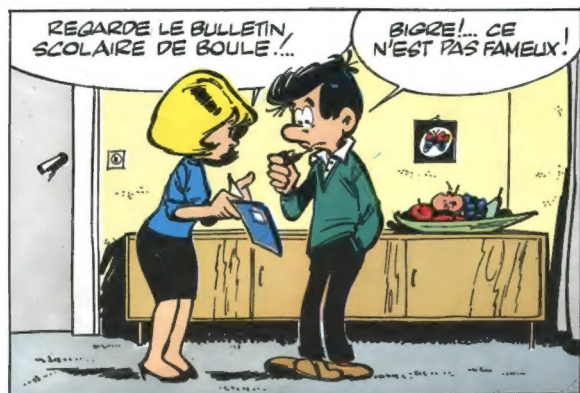

Une peinture est quelque chose d'intermédiaire entre une pensée et un objet.
(Coleridge)

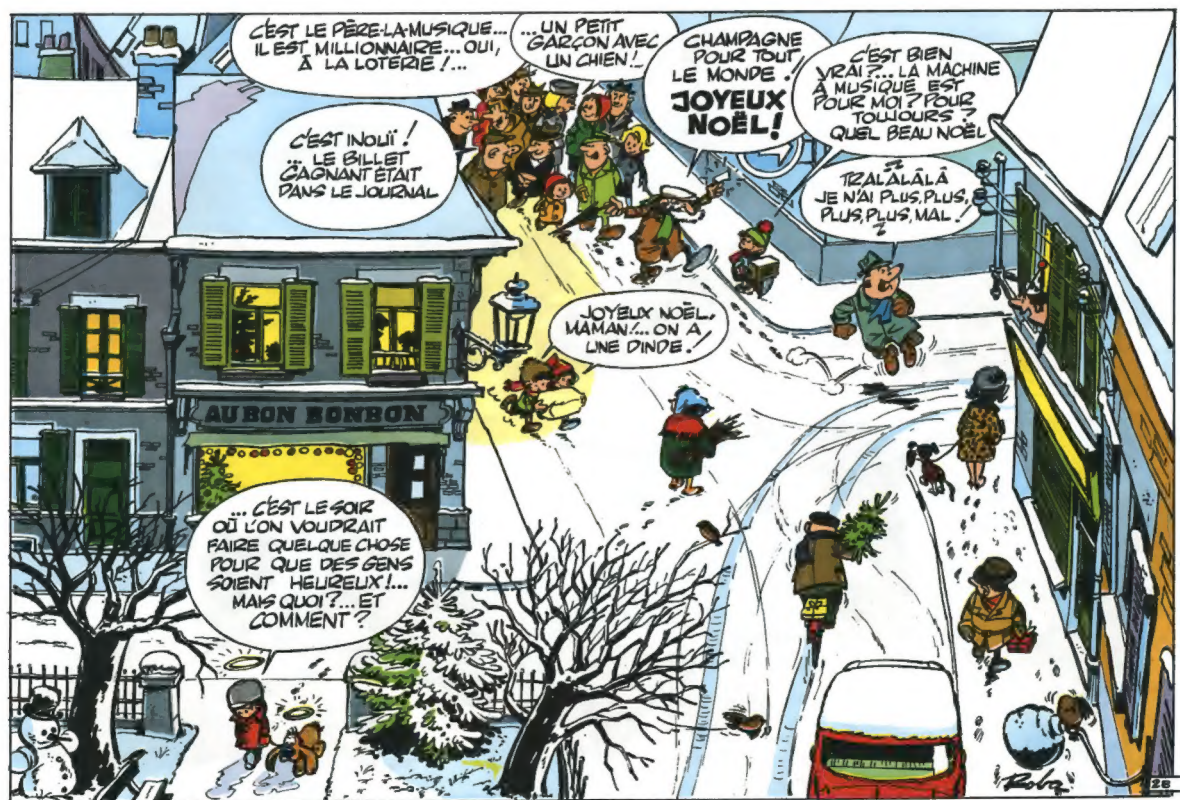

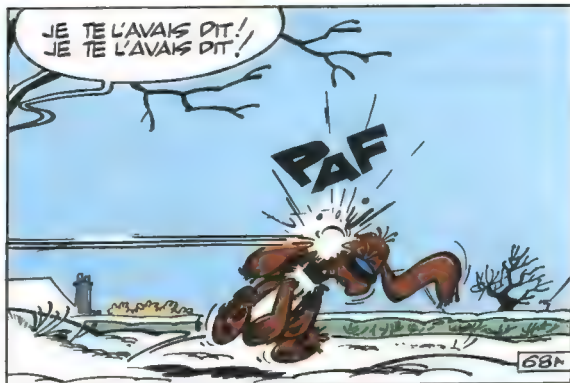

Le plus âne des trois n'est pas celui qu'on pense.
(La Fontaine)

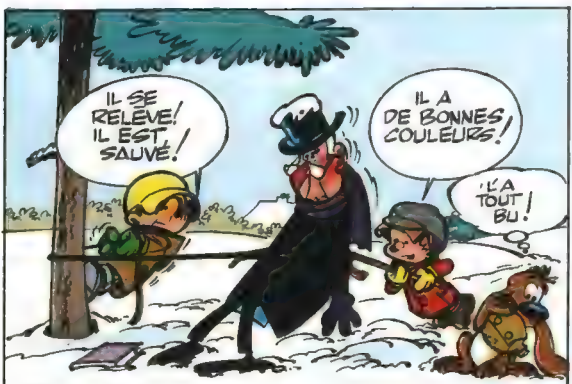

La chasse est une image de la guerre.
(Machiavel)

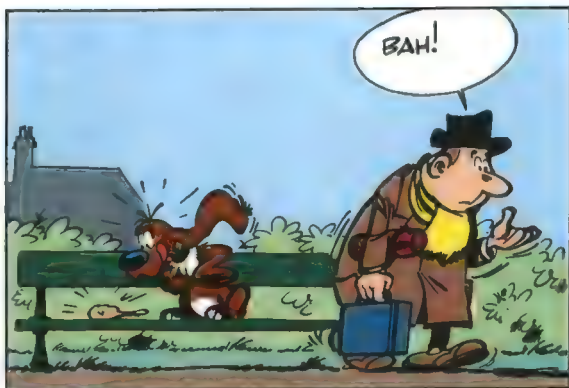

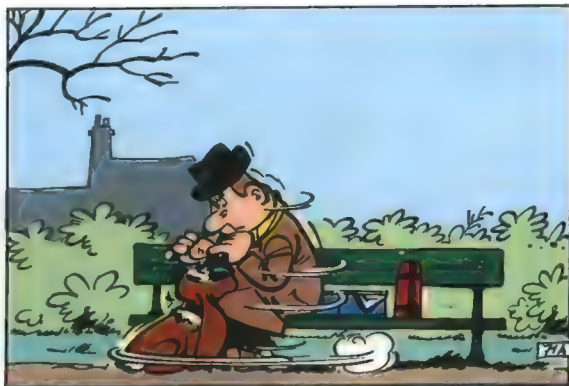

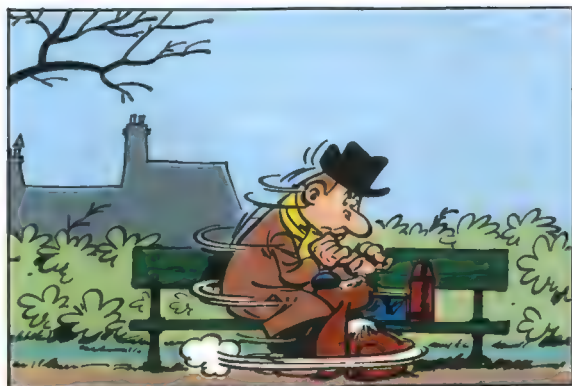

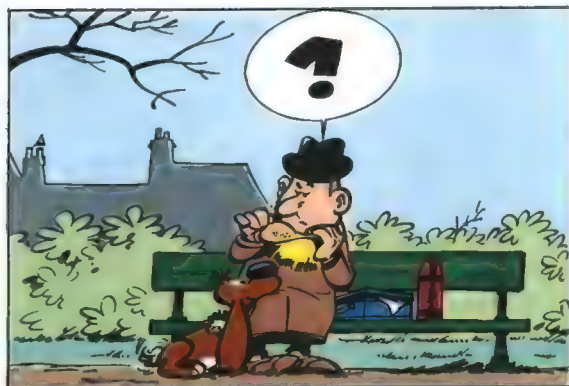

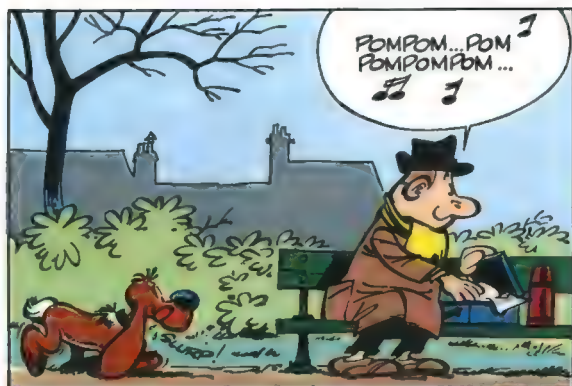

Il n'est pas suffisant d'aider le faible ;
il faut le soutenir ensuite.
(Shakespeare)

C'est le désir qui crée le désirable, et le projet qui pose la fin.
(Simone de Beauvoir)

Ce qui est épargné par les machines, ce n'est pas seulement l'effort physique,
mais aussi l'effort intellectuel.
(Lazarus)

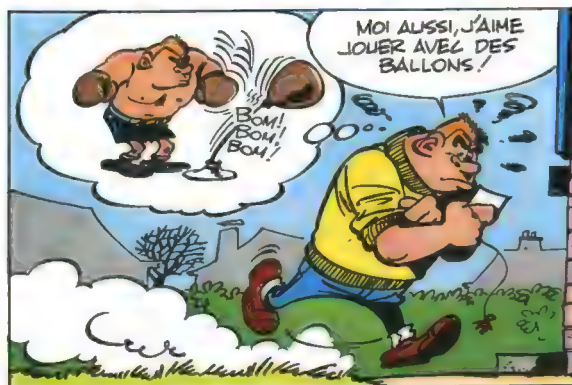

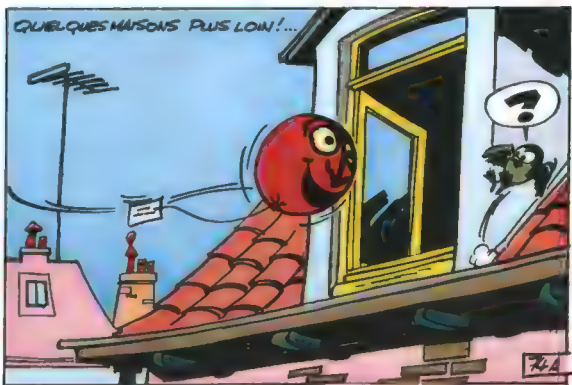

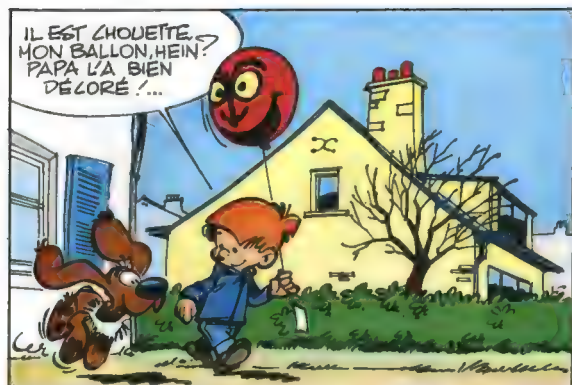

... Tire un marron, puis deux, et puis trois en escroque...
(La Fontaine)

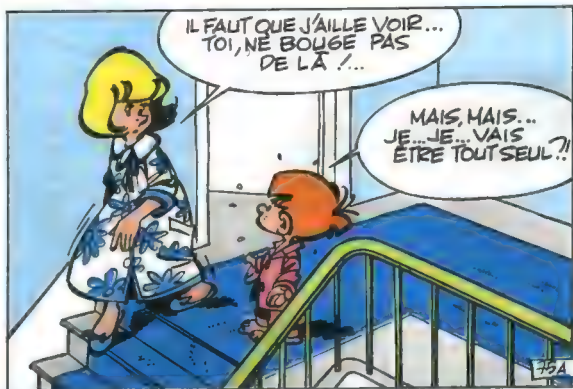

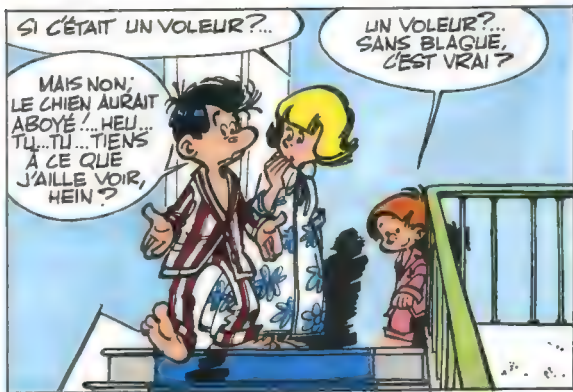

Courtes lettres et longues amitiés, voilà ma devise.
(Voltaire)

Celui qui est cruel avec les bêtes ne peut être un homme bon.
(Schopenhauer)

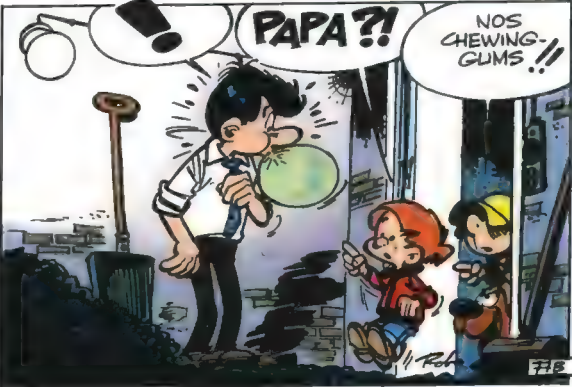

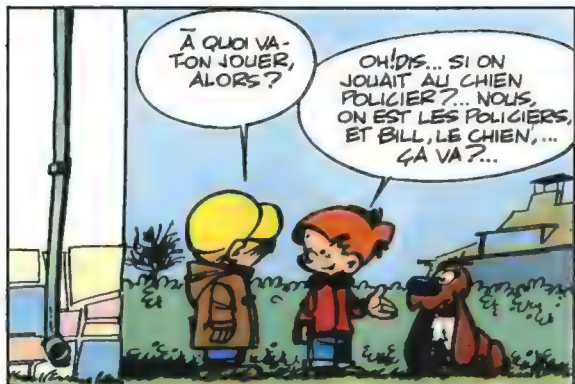

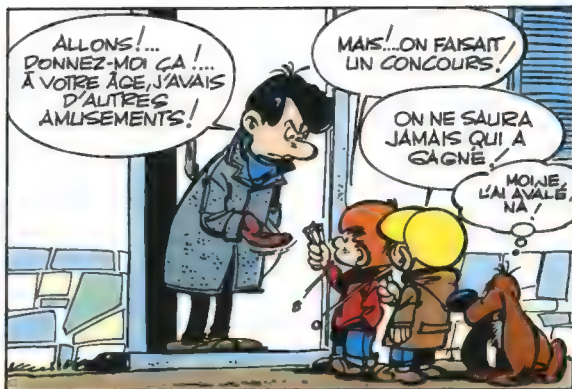

On creuse sa tombe avec les dents
(Proverbe turc)

La vertu des parents est un grand héritage.
(Horace)

Tout portrait qu'on peint avec âme est un portrait, non du modèle, mais de l'artiste.
(Oscar Wilde)

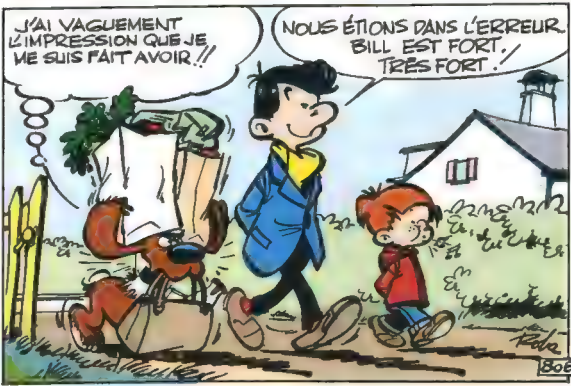

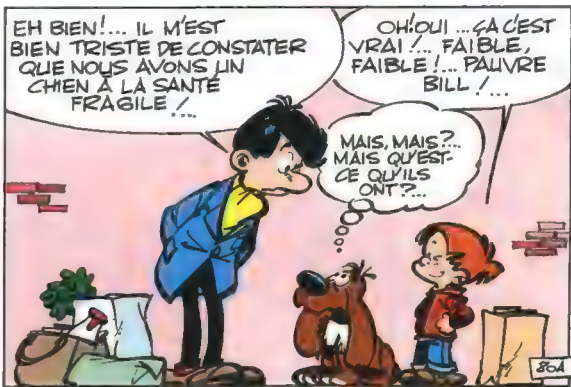

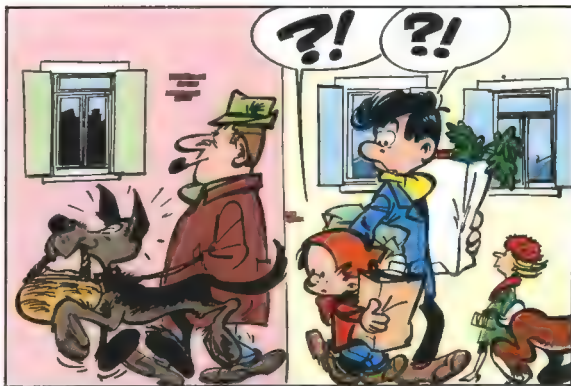

On n'achète pas un chat dans un sac.
(Locution populaire)

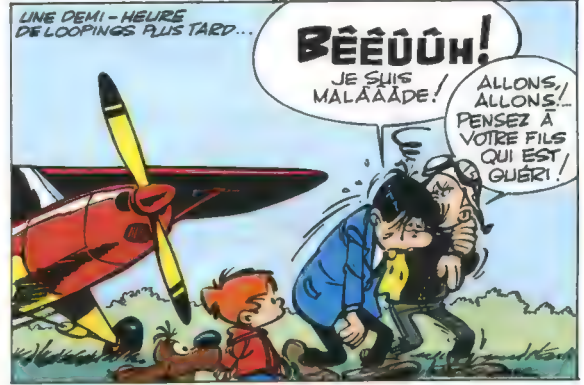

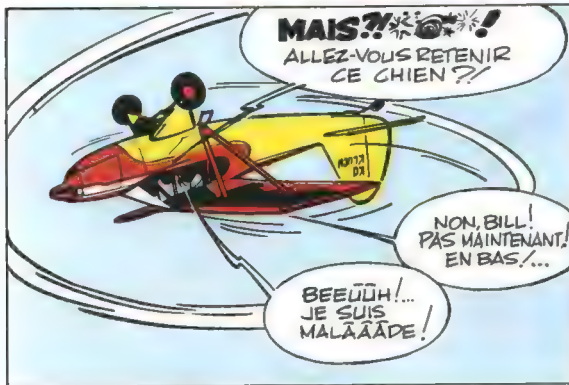

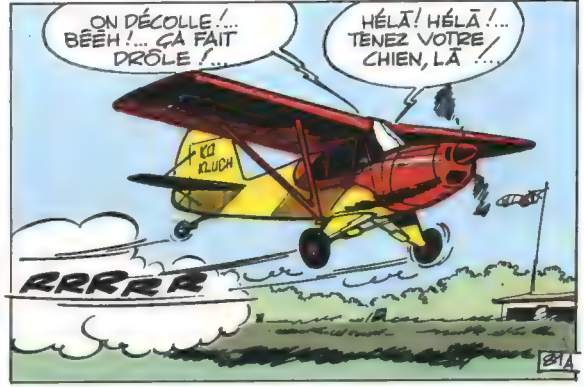

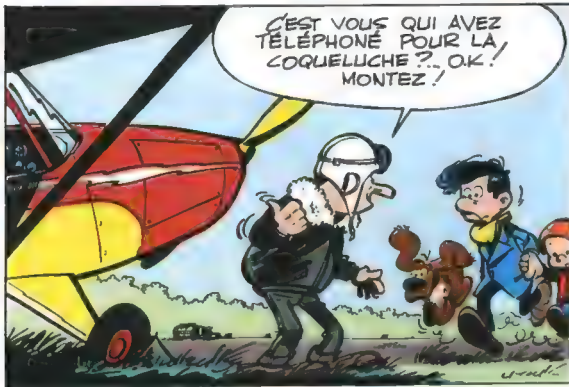

Si nous ne nous flattions pas nous-mêmes, la flatterie des autres ne nous pourroit nuire.
(La Rochefoucauld)

Il ne faut pas vouloir voler avant d'avoir des ailes.
(Locution)

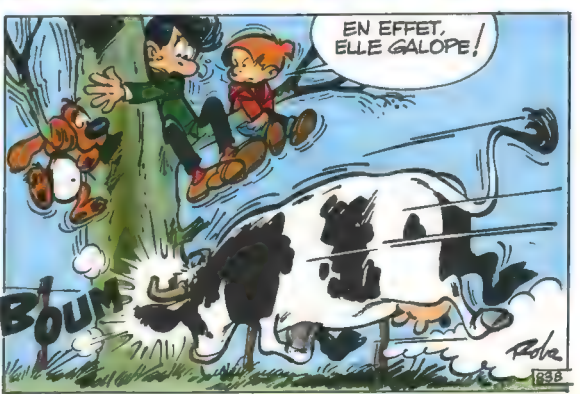

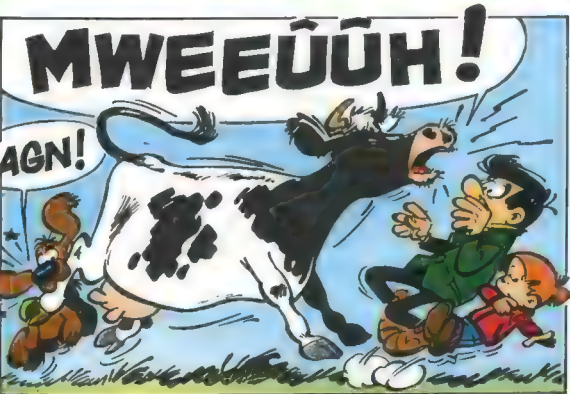

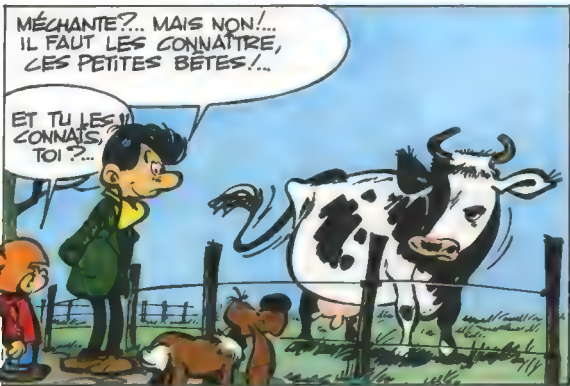

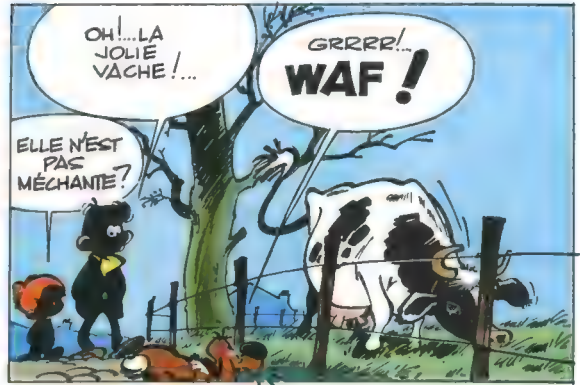

Un mauvais voisin est un mal aussi grand qu'un bon voisin est un grand bonheur.
(Hésiode)

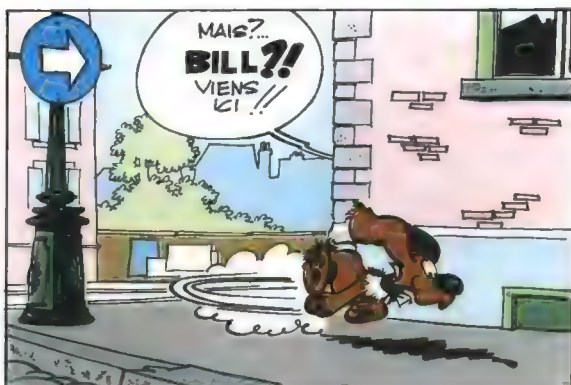

S'il ne tient qu'à battre, la vache est à nous.
(Molière)

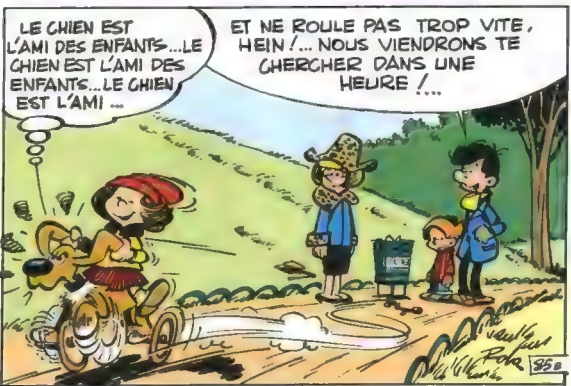

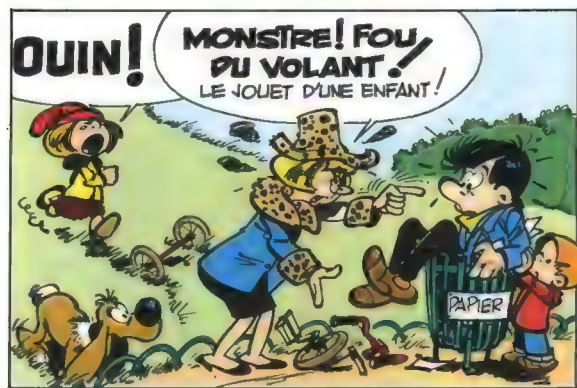

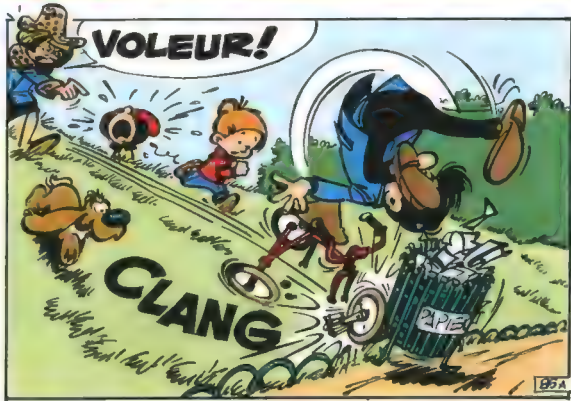

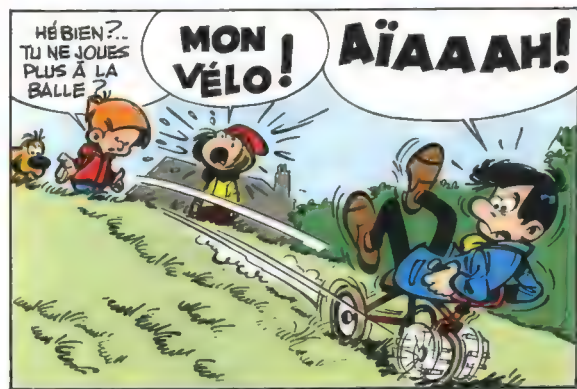

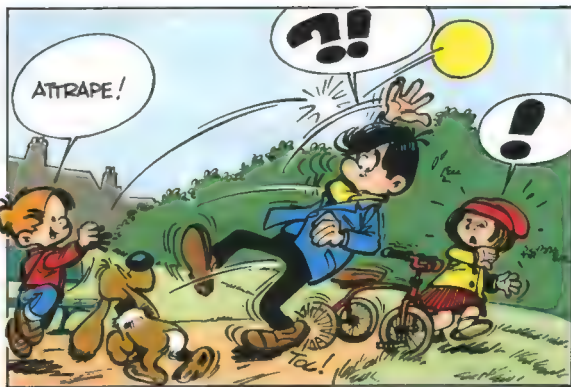

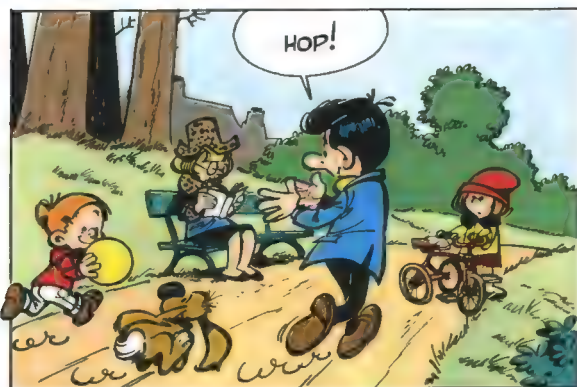

Ma foi ! Si vous songez à nourrir votre esprit, C'est de viande bien creuse, à ce que chacun dit.
(Molière)

Le chien est l'ami des enfants.
(Proverbe flamand)

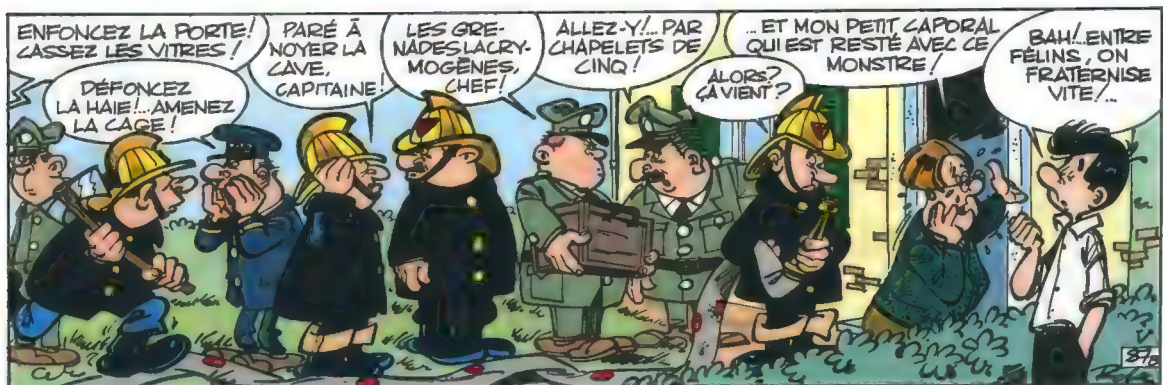

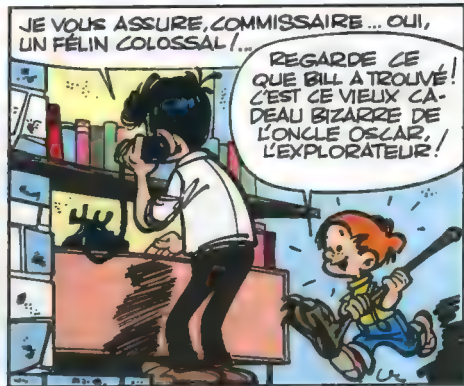

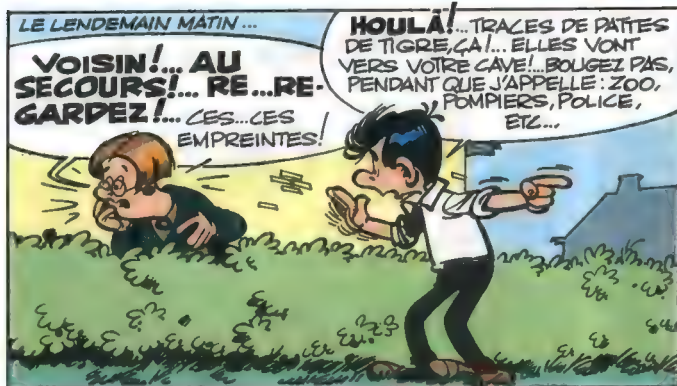

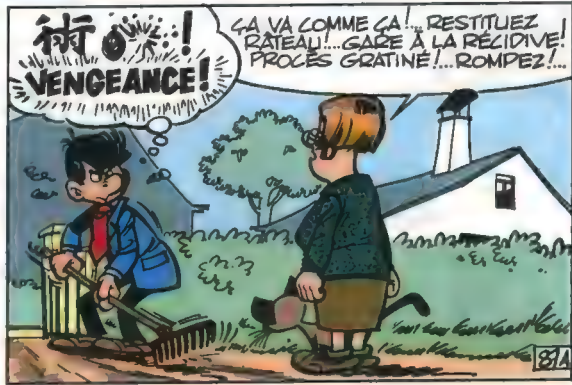

Les bons rois sont esclaves, et leurs peuples sont libres.
(Marie Leczińska)

Celui qui tient un tigre par la queue ne peut pas lâcher prise.
(Proverbe chinois)

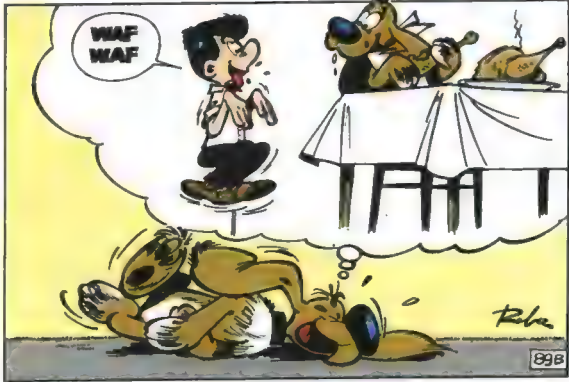

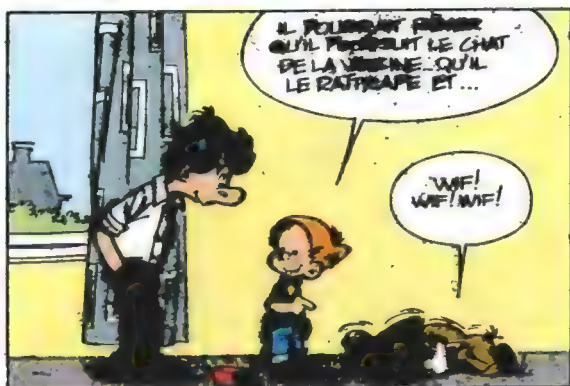

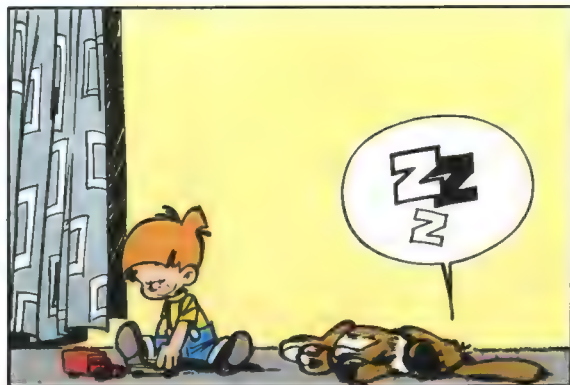

Il n'y a pas de fumée sans feu.
(Proverbe)

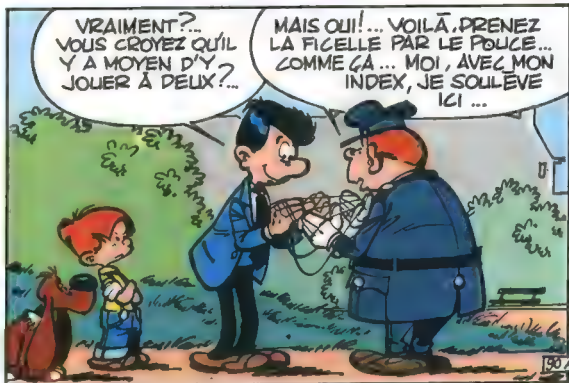

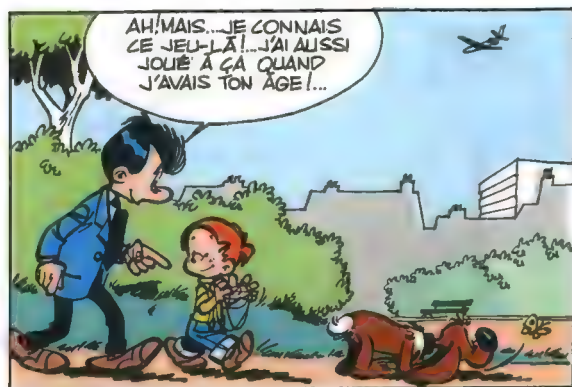

C'est par le rêve qu'on oublie,
Qu'on se console de la vie.
(A. Faure)

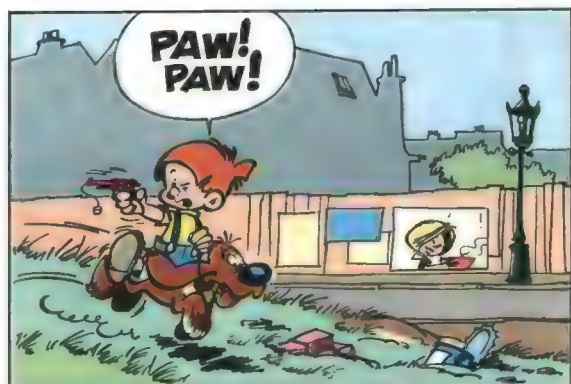

Au bout du jeu voit-on qui a gagné ?
(Proverbe)

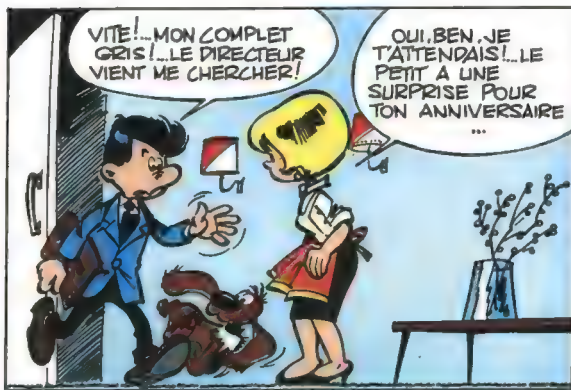

Nul n'est prophète en son pays.
(Saint Luc)

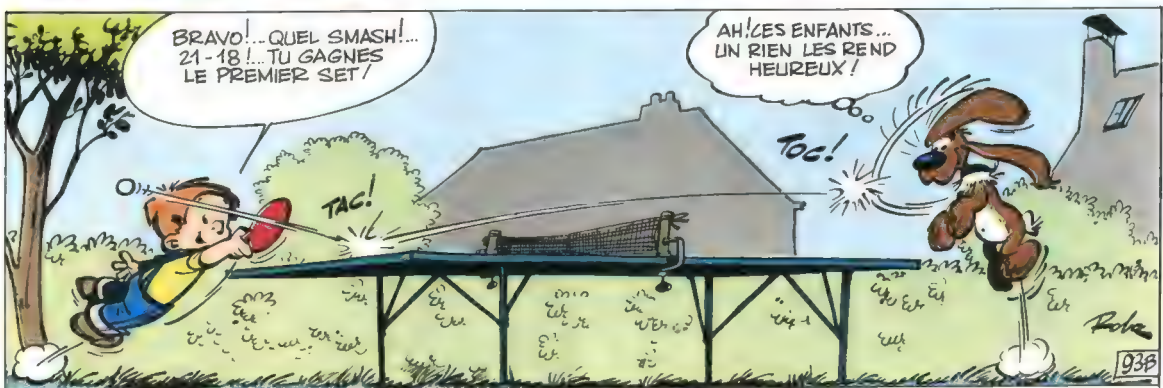

Tel donne à pleines mains, qui n'oblige à personne ;
La façon de donner vaut mieux que ce qu'on donne.
(Cornelle)

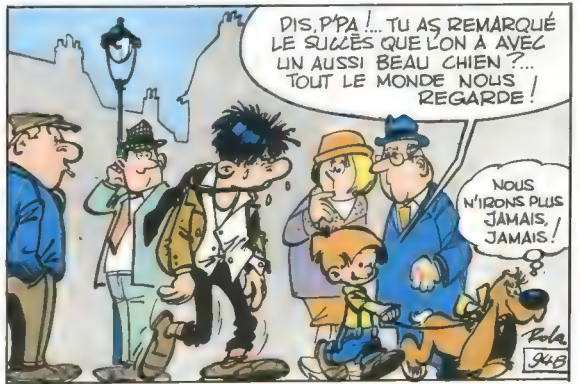

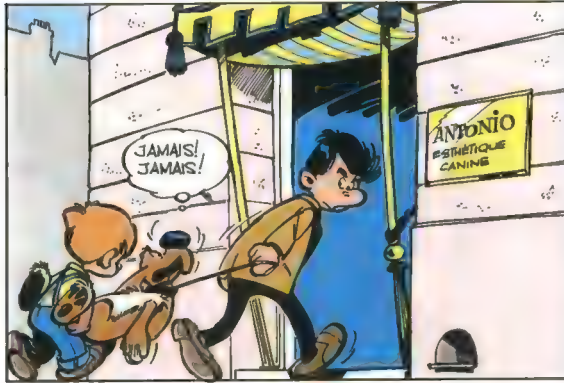

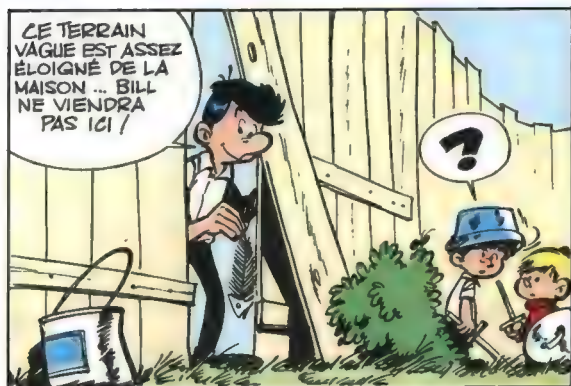

Bien qu'on vante la solitude,
A la longue elle fait bâiller.
(A. Trembley)

Il est dans la vraie beauté quelque chose que ne peut déceler l'esprit commun.
(Congreve)

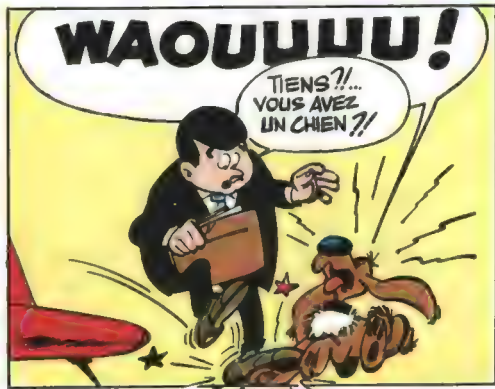

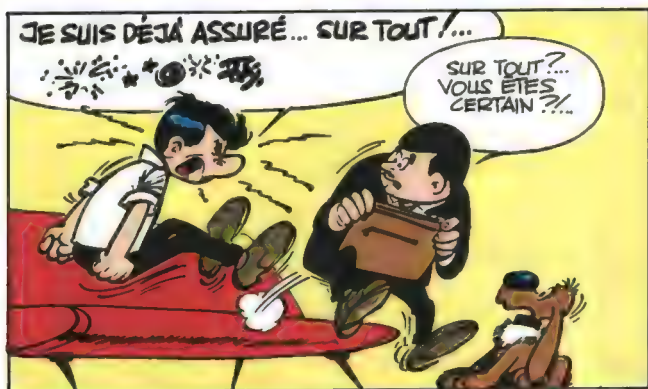

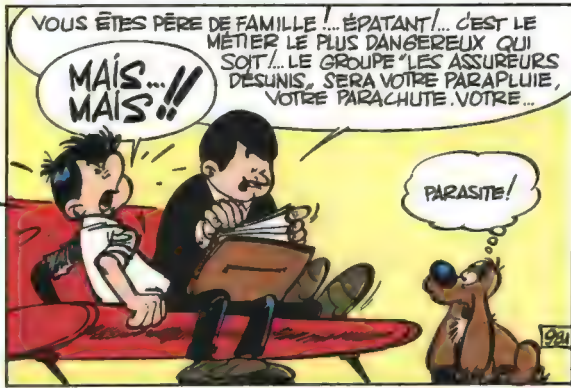

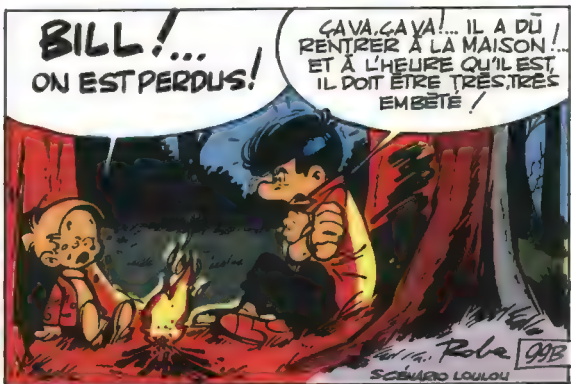

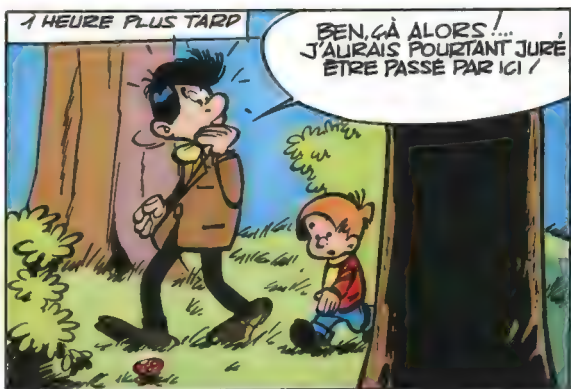

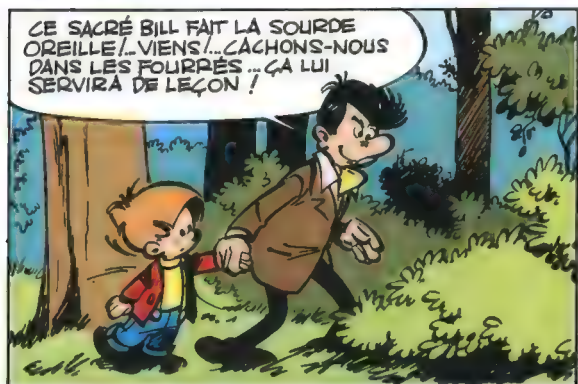

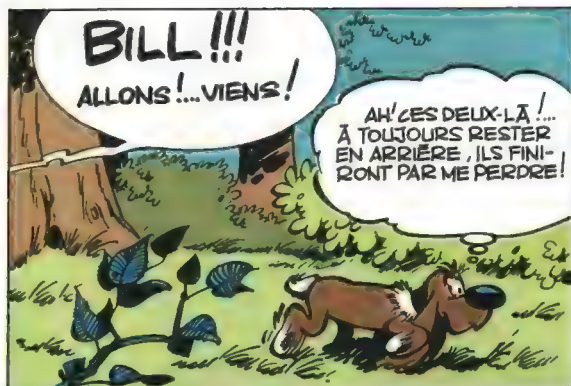

... L'assurance de ma considération distinguée.
(Formule épistolaire)

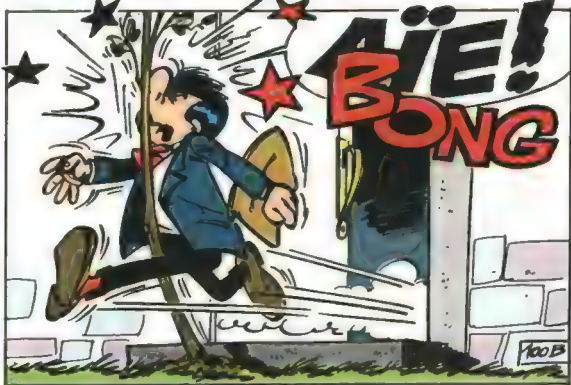

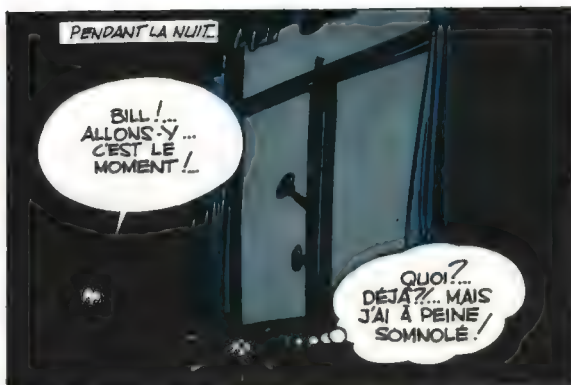

Promenons-nous dans les bois
Tant que le loup n'y est pas...
(Chanson enfantine)

Ne remettez pas à demain ce que vous pouvez faire le jour même.
(Benjamin Franklin)

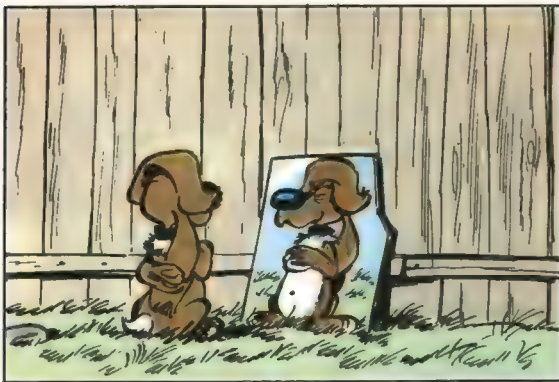

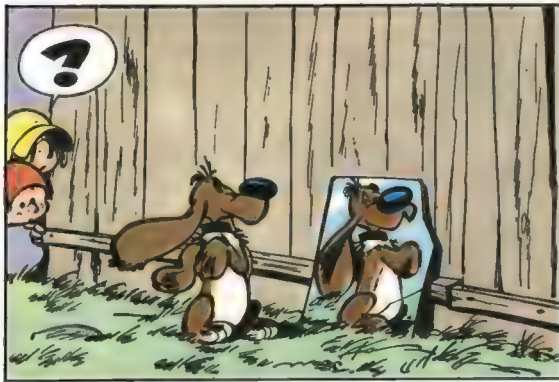

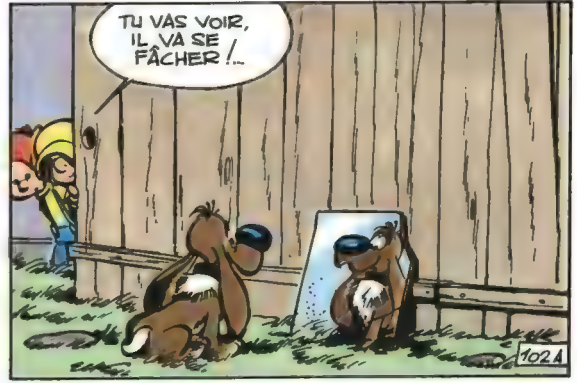

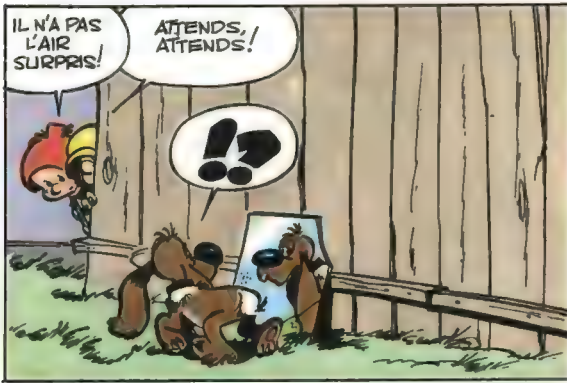

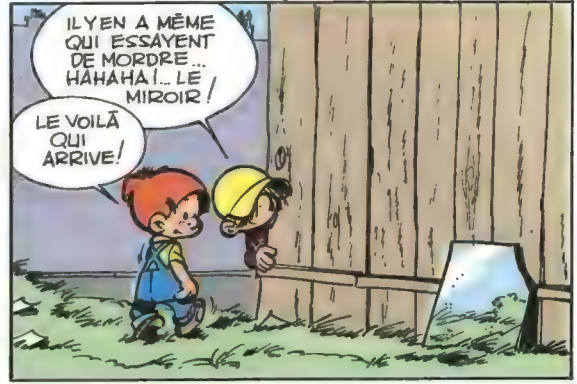

J'ai eu pour principe de ne jamais faire faire par autrui ce que je pouvais faire moi-même.
(Montesquieu)

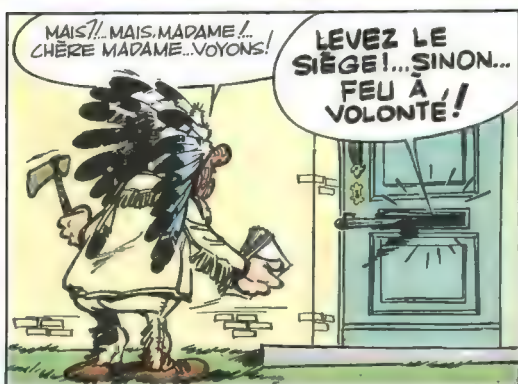

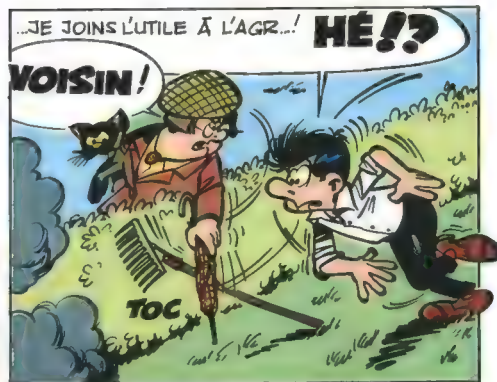

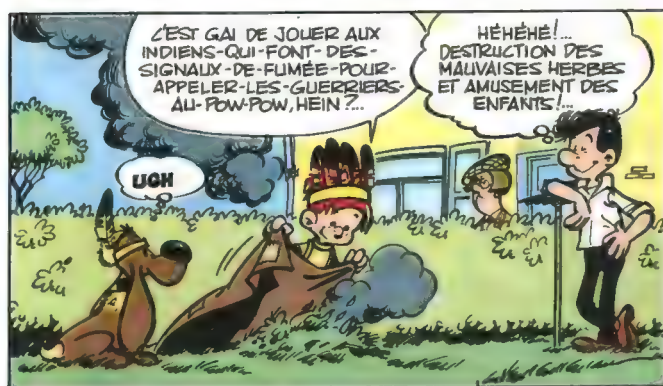

Miroir magique sur le mur,
Qui a beauté parfaite et pure ?
(La méchante reine de Blanche-Neige)

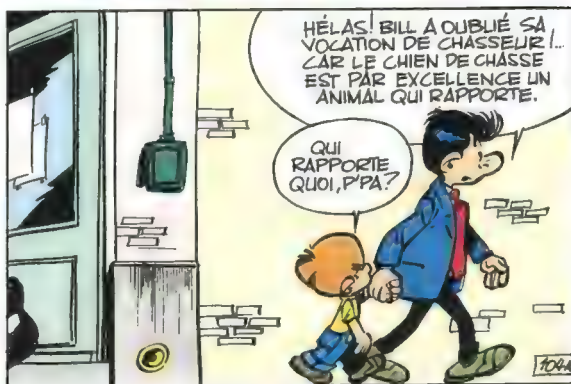

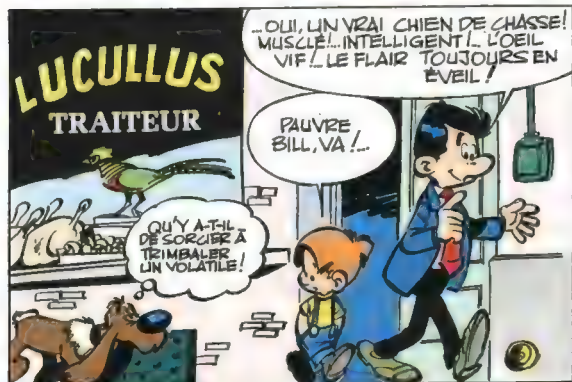

L'homme est le seul animal qui fasse du feu, ce qui lui a donné l'empire du monde.
(Rivarol)

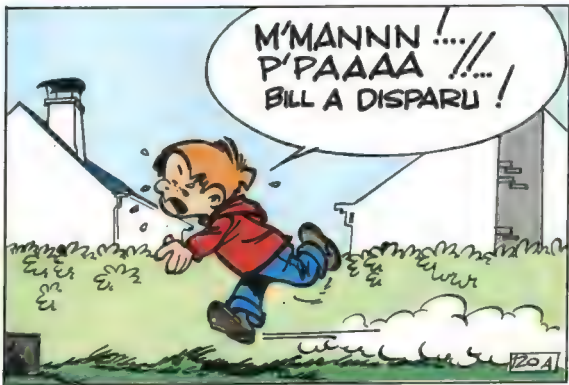

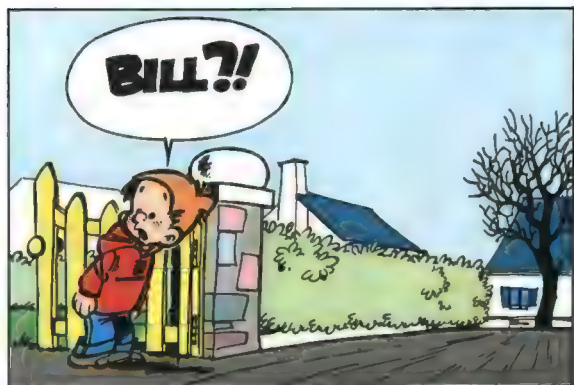

Bon chien chasse de race.
(Proverbe).

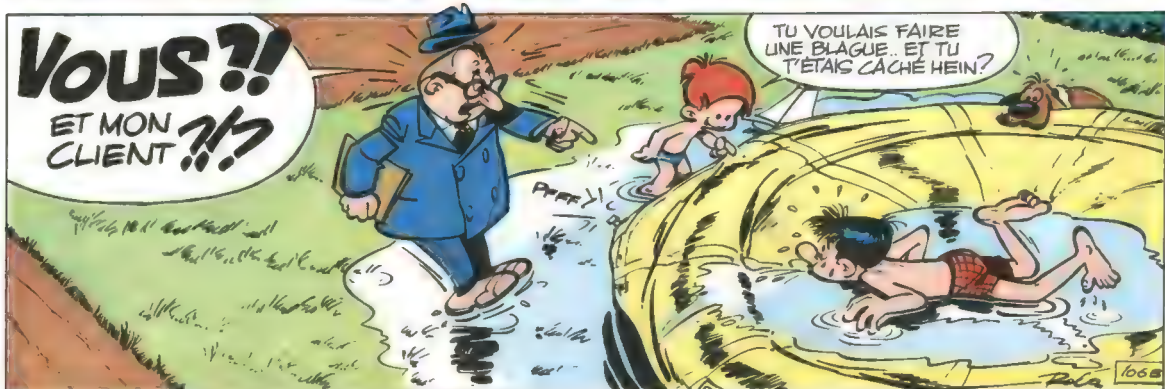

Fay ce que doy, adviene que pourra.
(Louis-Napoléon)

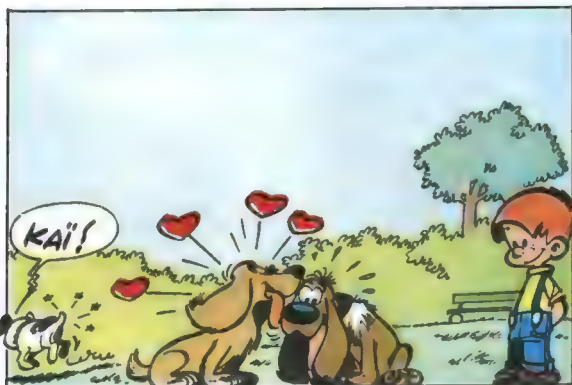

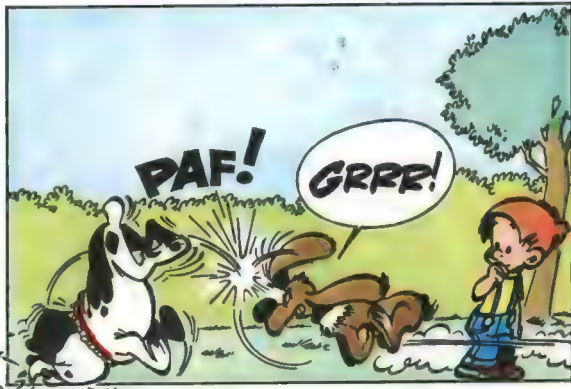

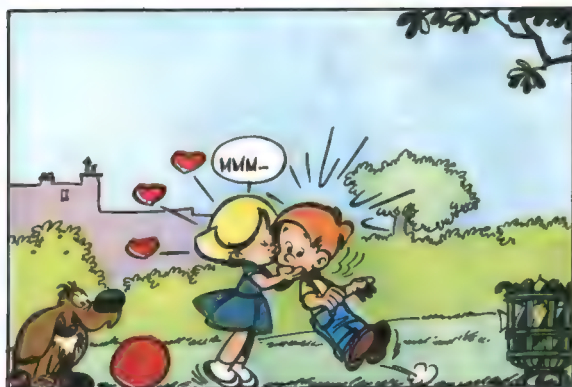

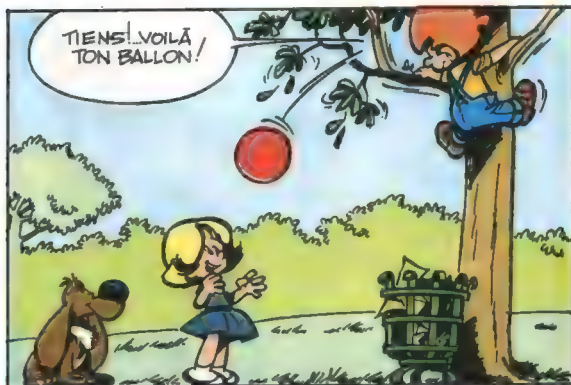

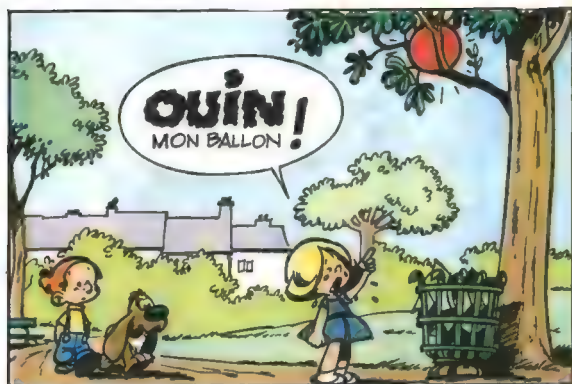

Sachez à vos devoirs immoler vos plaisirs.
(Comtesse de Glynes)

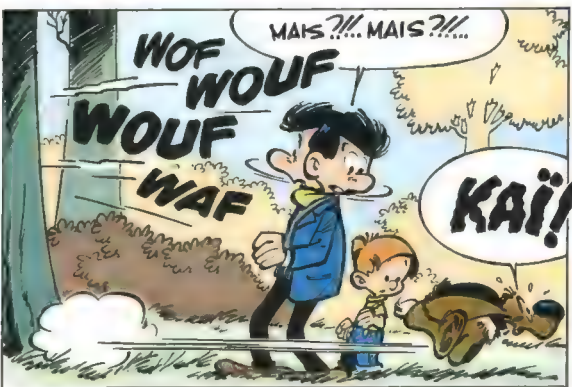

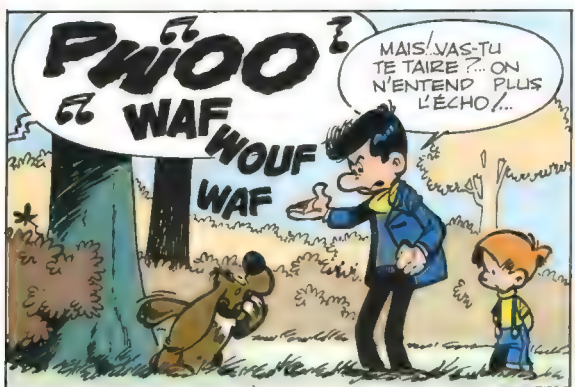

Un baiser fait moins de bruit qu'un canon, mais l'écho en dure plus longtemps.
(O. W. Holmes)

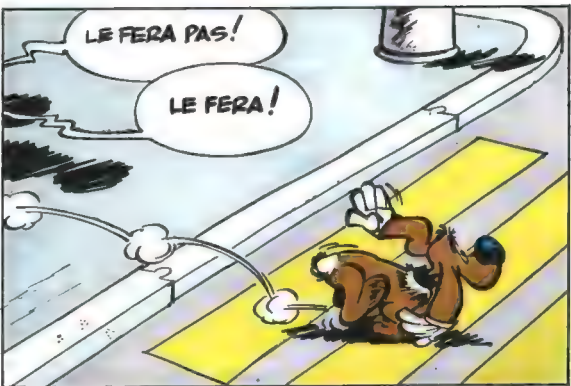

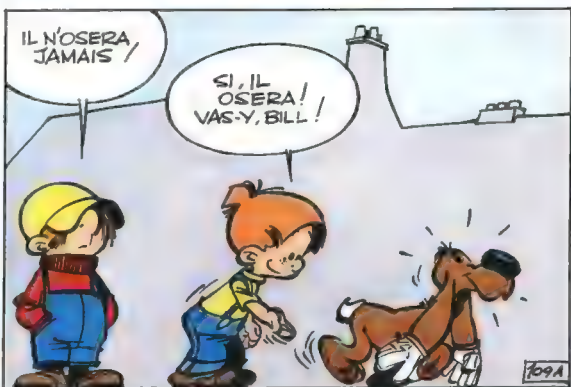

Qui sème le vent récolte la tempête.
(Livre de Josué)

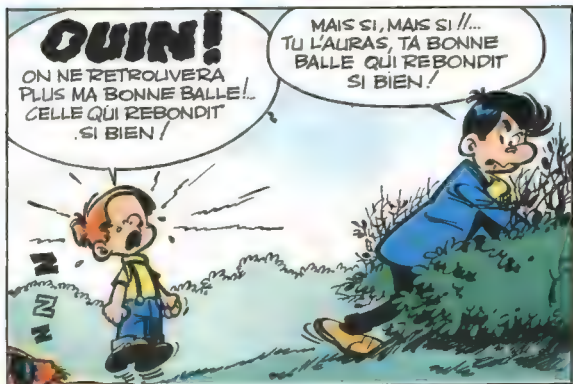

Un chien regarde bien un évêque.
(Proverbe d'origine espagnole)

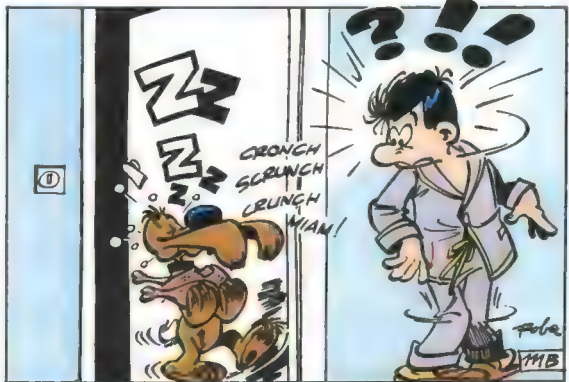

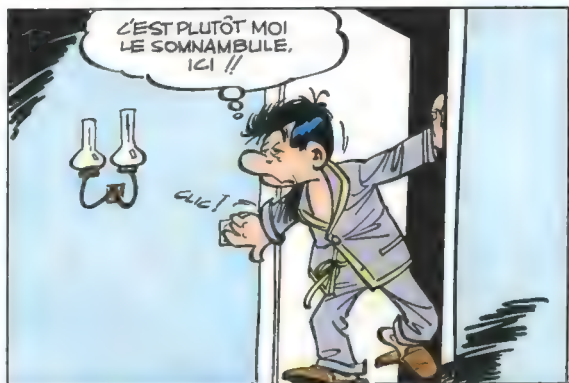

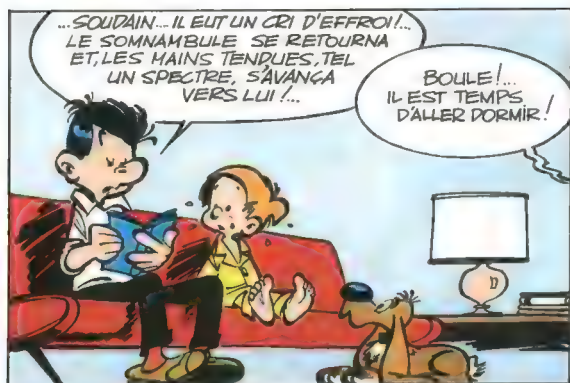

Qu'il est beau et bon de fouler à nouveau, main dans la main d'un fils aimé,
les sentiers de roses de la jeunesse.
(Schiller).

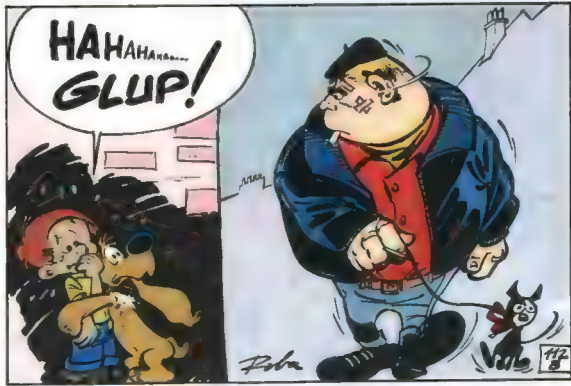

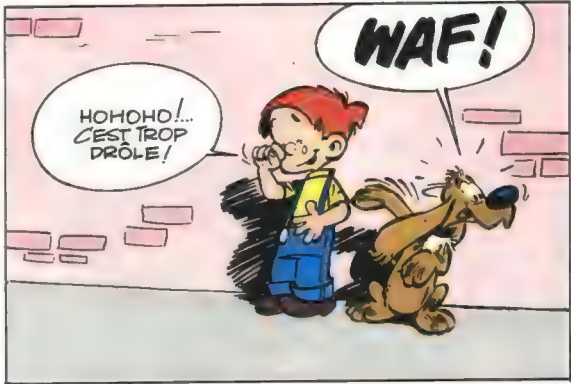

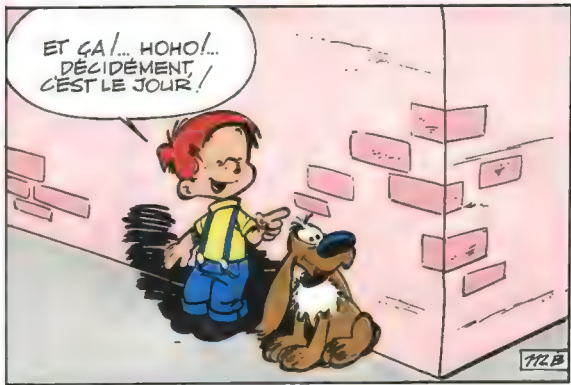

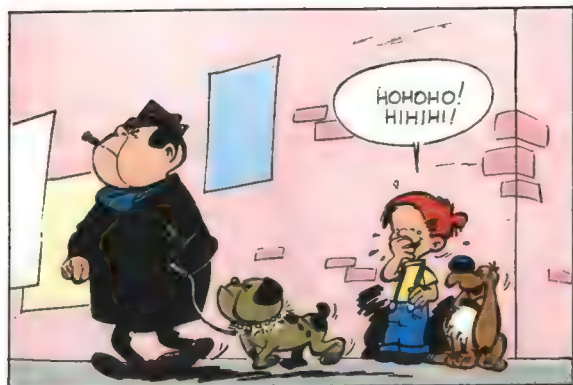

L'inconscient cherche à se satisfaire pendant le sommeil.
(Sigmund Freud)

*Les sots, les paysans et les sauvages se croient bien plus loin des bêtes que le philosophe.
(Rivarol)*

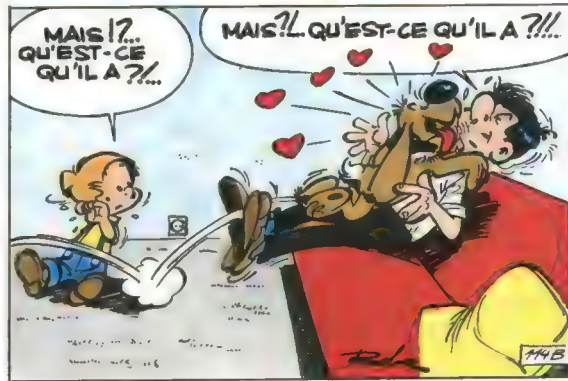

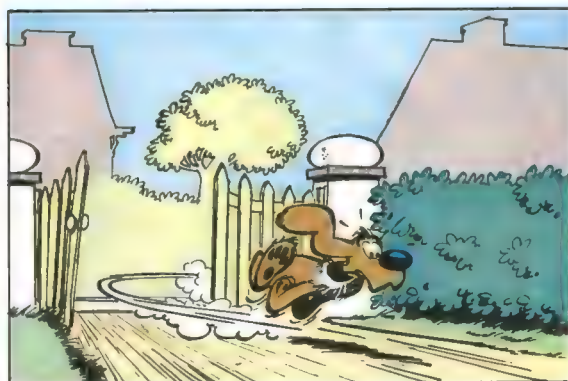

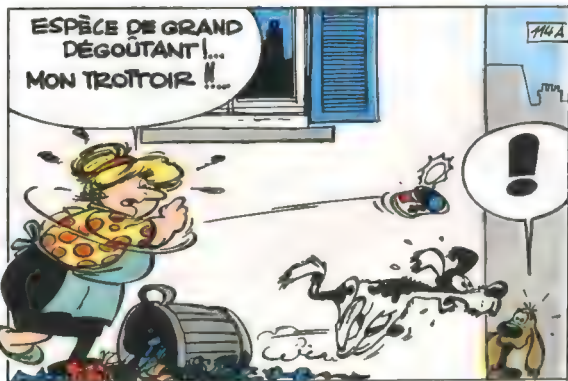

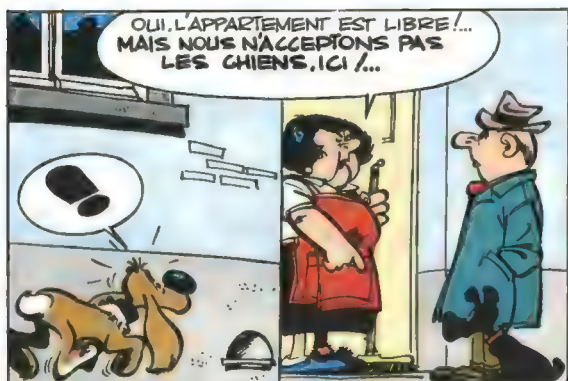

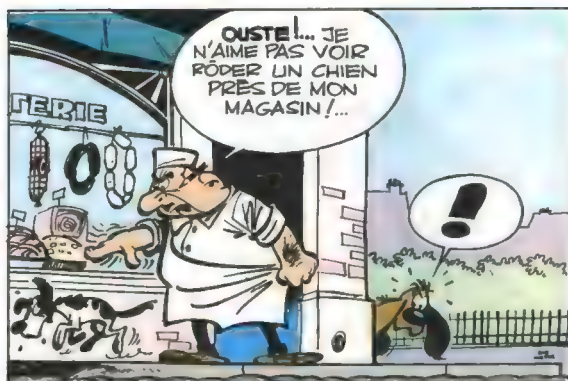

Arriver comme un chien dans un jeu de quilles.
(Locution populaire)

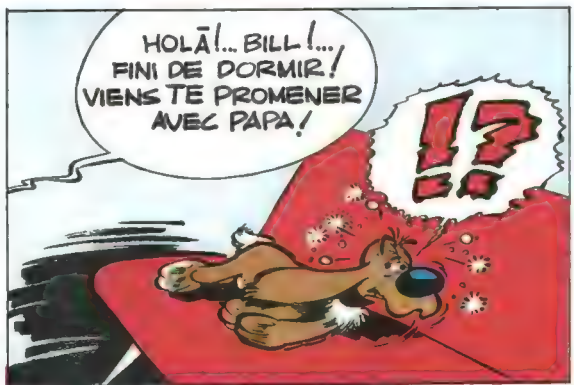

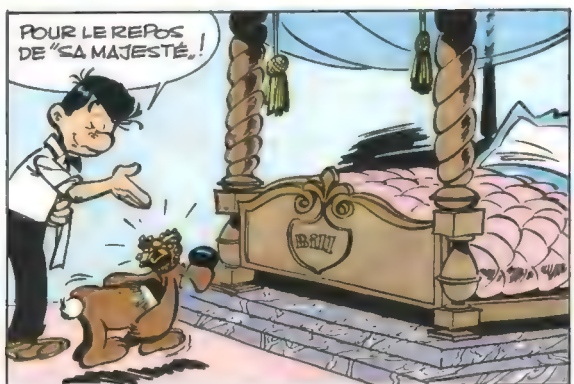

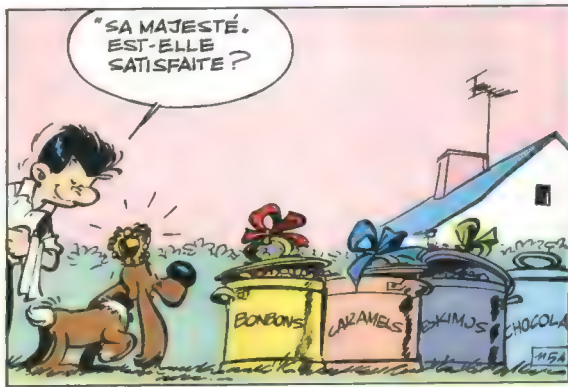

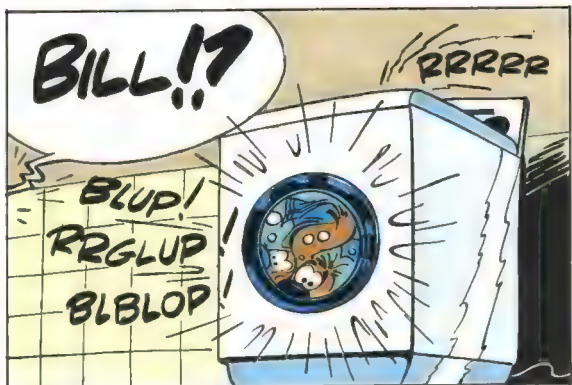

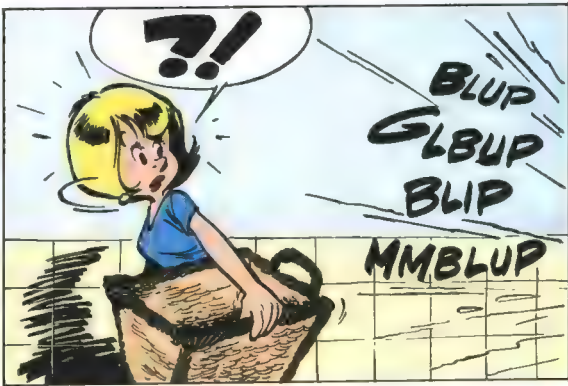

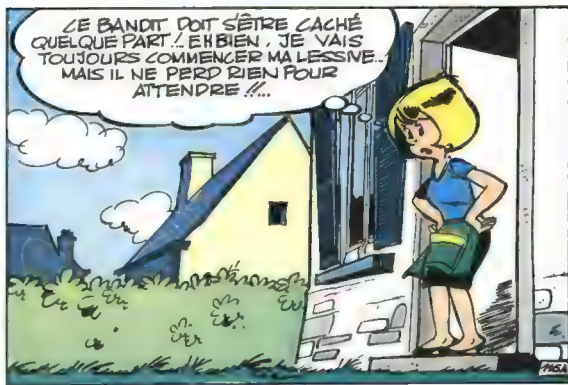

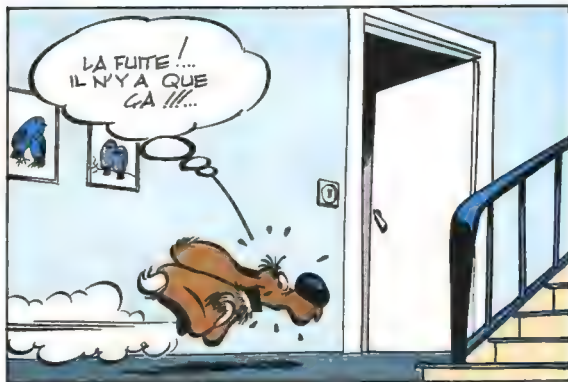

... Et seul, abandonné de tout le genre humain
Dont je trainais partout l'implacable anathème...
(Sully-Prudhomme)

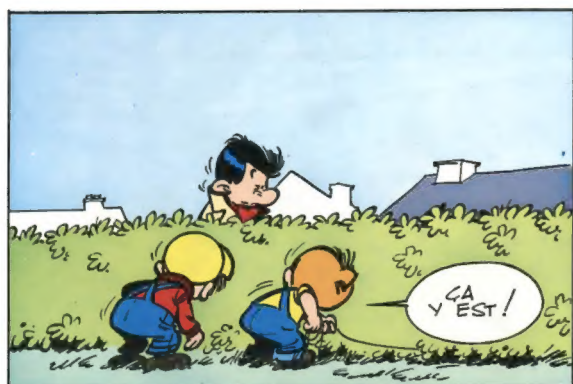

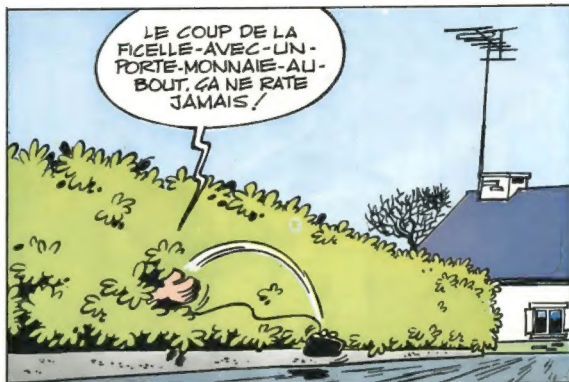

Les rêves sont les enfants d'un cerveau inactif, Engendrés par la vaine fantaisie...
(Shakespeare)

La plaisanterie perd tout son sel lorsque le plaisantin en rit lui-même.
(Schiller)

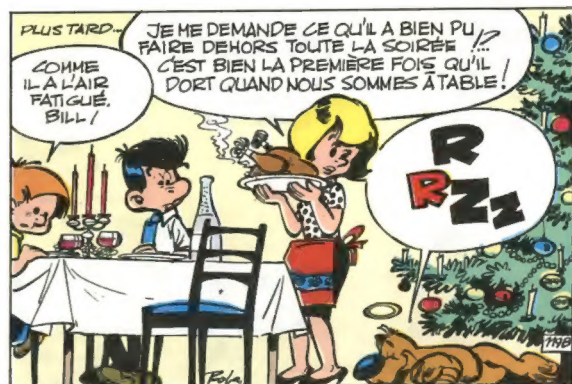

L'imitation est la forme la plus sincère de la flatterie.
(Colton)

Il est des cœurs qui donnent tant qu'ils en oublient qu'ils ont le droit de demander quelque chose.
(Anne Huet)

Chaque année qui s'écoule nous enlève quelque chose.
(Horace)
